ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This book began as a PhD dissertation, undertaken at Sapienza, University of Rome, between 2011 and 2015. I would like to thank the doctoral advisors and committee for the time they took to read the dissertation and for their post-examination advice. Drafts of the book were presented at Corpus Christi College, Western Washington University and Université de Strasbourg; my thanks to those who provided vital feedback and helped give shape to my ideas. I am extremely grateful to Daniele Borgogni for reading the entire manuscript and suggesting many improvements and corrections. Needless to say, all faults that remain are my own.

I would like to acknowledge the generosity of the Department of European, American, and Intercultural Studies at Sapienza, University of Rome, which provided the financial assistance for the publication of this book.

Thanks and much more to my parents and my family, all of whom have in different ways supported me with love and strength. I wish to express my debt and gratitude to Luigi, who has always believed in this project more than I did. Words fail. Without his inspiration, curiosity and passion this work would be unimaginable.
